is a TV comedy about a group of friends in Pasadena, California. Leonard and Sheldon are scientists. They work together and they share a flat too. Two other friends from work, Howard and Raj, often visit them. Penny lives opposite. She works in a restaurant. She likes Leonard and Sheldon, but they are very different from her. A lot of the humour comes from this contrast. It's a simple idea for a show, but millions of people watch and enjoy it every week. Clearly, people love shows about friends!

A DAY IN THE LIFE OF THE RADFORD FAMILY!

Sue and Noel Radford live in a very big house in Morecambe in the north of England. The house is big because they've got nineteen children! Their oldest child is 28, and the youngest is just a baby.

The day starts at 4 a.m. when Noel, a baker, goes to work. Two hours later, he comes home and he wakes up the children. Sue prepares breakfast and makes twelve packed lunches! After breakfast, Noel takes the children to school – in a minibus! Noel goes back to the bakery with his eldest daughter, Sophie. She works there too. Then Sue starts on the housework. She loads the dishwasher, cleans the house and does the washing (nine times a day!). After lunch she goes to the supermarket and she does the ironing. When Noel gets home at 5 p.m., he cooks dinner and the children set the table. After dinner, Sue helps the children with their homework. The day ends at 10 p.m. when all the children go to bed.

Posh and Becks

THE BECKHAMS are a famous family from Britain. Becks is the nickname of David Beckham, ex-footballer of Manchester United, Real Madrid and England. Posh is the nickname of his wife, Victoria, a member of the girl-band the Spice Girls.

Victoria is called 'Posh' because she loves posh, expensive clothes. She says she really likes sunglasses too, because it's easy to look cool in them! Now she is a fashion designer. Her company makes very expensive dresses, accessories and jewellery, but also ordinary clothes like jeans and jackets.

David doesn't play football now, but he owns a football team in Miami, Florida. David has got 32 tattoos! He says they are all about the people in his life, his wife and children. David Beckham is a hero to many English football fans.

The Beckhams do a lot of work for charities and they appear a lot on television. They have got four children. Their sons are Brooklyn, Romeo and Cruz, and their daughter is called Harper. The boys are footballers too, and hope to play for England one day.

Reading Strategy

When you want to know if a sentence fits a gap, read the sentences before and after the gap as well as the sentence itself, and ask yourself these questions:

- Does it make sense?
- Does it fit grammatically? (Think about tense, pronouns, singular and plural, this / that, etc.)
- Does it match the topic of the paragraph?

- 2 Read the Reading Strategy. Then match gaps (1–4) in the text with sentences (A–E). Use the questions in the Strategy to check that the sentences fit. There is one extra sentence which does not fit any of the gaps.

- A According to the website, the answer is: around the age of 25.

'Sometimes I want to be alone. But my sister is always there!'

'I can't have secrets when my brother is around. He reads my text messages!'

'My sister uses my things – and she doesn't ask me first! I hate that!'

- ▶ Imagine your brother or sister is a friend – and be nice!

I really enjoy school: my favourite subjects are science and art. I'm keen on languages too.

I love films and I watch DVDs with my friends every weekend. My other hobbies are dancing and reading. I like shopping too. Is that a hobby?!

How dangerous is your journey to school? Perhaps you have to walk across a busy road or ride your bike in traffic. But in general, your journey is probably safe. For some children, it's very different ...

- 1 Banpo Elementary School in China is on a mountain. The path to school is very narrow and dangerous. The children have to walk in a line. Fortunately, the head teacher of the school walks with the children every morning.
- 2 A group of children in Sumatra, Indonesia, have to cross a wide river every morning on their way to school. The bridge across the river is broken, so about 20 children have to walk across a rope. The rope is ten metres above the water. After that, they have to walk ten kilometres through the jungle! And of course, at the end of the school day, they have to do the same journey again on their way home.
- 3 Students in Minh Hoa in Vietnam have to cross a river on their way to and from school every day. There are no bridges or boats, so the children swim. They put their books and clothes in large plastic bags so they do not get wet. The bags also help the children to stay safe in the water (the water is 20 metres deep). When they reach the other side, they take their dry clothes out of the bag and put them on.
- 4 Near Bogotá, the capital of Colombia, some children have to cross a large valley to get to school. At the bottom of the valley is the Rio Negro, a huge river. There is only one way to cross the valley: on a zip wire. That's a metal rope, 800 metres long and 400 metres above the river. The journey is very fast. In fact, it only takes about one minute! Small children cannot travel across the valley alone, so their brother or sister puts them in a bag!

2 Read the text. Choose the correct answer, (A–D).

Homeschooling – how does that work?

Oliver Kent is a thirteen-year-old student, but he doesn't go to school. He's homeschooled. His dad is his teacher and teaches Oliver at home.

'People always ask me the same questions,' says Oliver, who lives in London. 'Things like "What time do you have to get up? When do you start? When do you finish? Do you like it?" They don't understand homeschooling, but for me it's normal. I love it! I can get up when I want to, and I have lessons at different times every day.'

'Dad doesn't work. I study at home with him, and we sometimes go to museums and talk about what we see. I go swimming three times a week. I have a teacher because Dad can't swim. I'm in a football club too. I have internet lessons on English, maths and politics. Dad teaches me the other subjects.'

Homeschooling is popular in Australia, Canada, New Zealand, the United Kingdom, the United States and many other countries. Can parents homeschool their children in every country in the world? No. Brazil, Greece, Cuba, Turkey and 24 other countries say 'no' to homeschooling.

What about friends? 'People often ask me that question,' says Oliver. 'I have lots of friends. Most of them go to school and that's the right thing for them. My friend Ella is homeschooled by her mum. We can discuss things about homeschooling that other people don't understand.'

Does Oliver think he is different to other thirteen-year-olds?

'Of course not. I watch the same things on TV as other kids my age. I play the same games, I worry about the same things and I eat the same food! I learn the same things. It's just that I learn them in a different way.'

LOOK OUT!

We often use the word 'top' to mean any kind of shirt, T-shirt, sweater, etc. We sometimes use the word 'bottoms' to refer to the bottom half of a tracksuit, pyjamas, etc.

He usually wears a tracksuit for P.E.

Her socks are often wet.

6 2.04 Read the Recycle! box. Then listen again. Complete sentences 1–5 with the correct adverb of frequency from the list below and the correct present simple form of the verb in brackets.

LEARN THIS! Present continuous

- We use the present continuous to talk about events that are happening now.
- We form the present continuous with the present simple of be and the -ing form of the verb:

- Complete the examples in the table with the correct form of the verb be.

Present continuous
Affirmative
I ¹ _____ doing my homework.
She ² _____ walking to school.

Interrogative
⁷ _____ you going home now? Yes, we ⁸ _____ / No, we ⁹ _____.
¹⁰ _____ she wearing boots? Yes, she ¹¹ _____ / No, she ¹² _____.

LEARN THIS! Spelling: -ing forms

- We form most -ing forms by adding -ing to the infinitive without to:
eat → eating go → going
- When the infinitive ends in -e, we usually replace -e with -ing:
dance → dancing phone → phoning
- When the infinitive ends in a single vowel plus consonant, we often double the consonant before adding -ing:
chat → chatting stop → stopping

'It's good that we can buy cheap clothes. I never spend more than £10 on a shirt or trousers, but my clothes are comfortable and I love them. This T-shirt is made in Bangladesh. The workers in the factories there don't get much money. People say that's unfair, but I don't agree. The fashion companies are giving them jobs!'

Ryan

'The large fashion companies don't care about the workers in their factories. The pay is very low and the jobs are often dangerous. It's terrible! We should pay more for clothes. I always look at the label, and I never buy cheap clothes that are made in poor countries.'

IMPOSSIBLE

IMAGES?

1 — 'Female celebrities post selfies on social media; millions of teenage girls see them and try to copy them. They want to have the same artificial hairstyles and make-up. I really believe that this is becoming a big problem. Why? Because girls are worrying about their appearance all the time and they're becoming unhappy. And the problem is growing. For example, teenage girls today spend 90% more on make-up than ten years ago.'

Maria Baker, Professor of Sociology

2 — 'In my view, social networking websites like Facebook and Instagram are part of the problem. Teenagers take photos of their close friends all the time and then they put these photos on the internet. A bad photo gets unkind comments. So girls now think it's important to look good all the time. Today's teenage girls are embarrassed about looking natural or having untidy hair. They can't relax. I see this problem every day at school.'

Sophie Ellis, Head Teacher

3 — 'To be honest, this isn't just a problem for girls. Boys have pressures too. They are surrounded by images of male celebrities with muscular bodies. Suddenly, an ordinary male body is not good enough, they think, so they take dangerous drugs to make their bodies muscular. Others go on unnecessary diets – for example, they buy special drinks because they want to be muscular. They talk about it a lot at the gym.'

Bob French, Gym owner

4 — 'A lot of teenagers try to copy images in magazines and on websites. But it's very easy to change photos on a computer. So today's teenagers are trying to copy an image that is not real. However, these tricks are not a secret these days. In fact, some companies are refusing to change their photos. They use hashtags to advertise their "real photos" on Twitter. Some people say social media is part of the problem. Personally, I think it can be part of the solution.'

Luke Woods, Photographer

5 — 'In my opinion, people are worrying about this too much. A lot of girls come into my shop and buy make-up. But they aren't copying celebrities. They have their own ideas and their own look. It's a way of expressing your personality. And it can be fun too. Of course some of the images in magazines are fake. Teenagers know that – they aren't stupid!'

Listening Strategy

Unstressed words can be difficult to catch in natural speech. Being able to recognise the unstressed form of words will help you to understand them when you hear them.

FREEGANISM

In the UK, we throw away seven million tonnes of ¹ _____ and drink every year. Supermarkets throw away food that is past its sell-by date, and they also throw away ² _____ and vegetables that are the wrong ³ _____ or size! We also waste a lot of food at home because we buy too much, or cook too much for a ⁴ _____. And 35% of school lunches go straight into the ⁵ _____ too!

Freegans are very ⁶ _____ about this. They try not to waste anything. They collect good food that supermarkets throw away, and they eat it or give it to people who are ⁷ _____. Freegans recycle and reuse other things too – for example, ⁸ _____ and furniture. They want to change the way we live.

LEARN THIS! Unstressed words

a We usually stress the important 'content words' in sentences (e.g. nouns, names, main verbs, adjectives, question words).

Tom is in the kitchen.

Where is the knife?

b Less important 'functional words' are often unstressed (e.g. prepositions, modal verbs, articles, conjunctions, the verb be, pronouns, possessive adjectives).

c The vowel sound in unstressed words sometimes changes to a schwa sound /ə/.

/from/ > /frəm/

- 3 2.19 Read the Learn this! box. Listen and underline the 'content words' in these sentences.

JUNK FOOD ADVERTISING

What can we do about junk food adverts for children? The World Health Organisation (WHO) believes that junk food adverts are responsible for a lot of obesity in children. It is very worried about this problem.

American children are used to food and drink adverts on TV. The average teenager watches sixteen every day! But now the food companies are also making computer games with junk food adverts. These games are very popular with children. The adverts are usually for food that is full of fat and sugar, for example burgers, biscuits, sweets and fizzy drinks. Most children are very keen on these foods, but of course they are bad for you. And after they watch the adverts, the children eat on average 45% more junk food.

The food industry says that this is not a problem. The WHO is disappointed with this attitude, because obesity in children is increasing every year. The WHO wants to ban junk food advertising for children in all countries. In Quebec, Sweden and Norway, they are already banned. What do you think?

- 2 Read the text. One of these sentences is not true. Which one?

- 2 Junk food companies say that there is a problem.

- can you see water above the tables?
- can you see fish and water around the tables?
- do the customers sit in hammocks, not chairs?
- is it very dangerous to leave the table?

2 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Would you like to eat in these restaurants? Why? / Why not? Choose a favourite.

3 Read the text. Match the names of the restaurants to the photos. What other restaurants are in the text but not in the photos?

Reading Strategy

When you have to complete sentences with information from a text, start by deciding which part of the text contains the information you need. Remember that the sentences follow the same order as the text.

4 Read the Reading Strategy. Then read the sentences below, ignoring the gaps. In which paragraph of the text (A–D) can you find the information for each sentence?

- It is difficult for restaurants in big cities to attract _____. (1 word)
- A 'gimmick' is something to make your restaurant _____. (1 word)
- At Ithaa, you can have dinner at a table below the _____. (2 words)
- You can experience Dinner in the Sky in 45 different _____. (1 word)
- In Accra, you can have a meal inside an _____. (1 word)
- At B.E.D. in Miami, there aren't any tables or _____. (1 word) for the customers.
- At Zauo, the customers don't order their fish, they _____. (2 words)

A Competing for customers

There are hundreds of restaurants in every big city. Often they serve similar food at similar prices – so how do they attract customers? Most restaurants try to offer good food and great service – and they hope customers come back again and again. But some restaurants offer a gimmick – something unusual to make their restaurant different from all the others.

B Location, location, location

Sometimes the gimmick is the restaurant's location. El Diablo, on the Spanish island of Lanzarote, is on a volcano. The chef uses heat from the volcano to cook the food. Or how about an underwater restaurant? At Ithaa, a restaurant in the Maldives, you can have dinner five metres below the Indian Ocean and watch sharks and turtles while you eat. Or you can go to the other extreme and choose Dinner in the Sky. Here, customers enjoy their meal at a special table 50 metres in the air. The company has restaurants in 45 different countries. It's an amazing experience – but don't drop your knife or fork!

Out OF THE ORDINARY

5 Complete the sentences in exercise 4 with information from the text. Write one or two words in each gap.

- 5 What kind of food do you like to eat when you eat out?

8 PROJECT Work in pairs. Invent a restaurant. Then describe your restaurant to the class. The class votes for the best one. Think about:

- how to attract customers.
- the location.
- what kind of food you can order there.
- a gimmick.

C Are you sitting comfortably?

People often complain about the seats in aeroplanes: they're uncomfortable and there isn't enough space. So surely a restaurant inside an aeroplane is a bad idea. Well maybe not. In Accra, the capital of Ghana, you can have lunch or dinner inside an old DC-10 aeroplane. The waiter brings your food and drink on a trolley! Other restaurants offer extra comfort. At the Hammock Café in Sri Lanka, there are hammocks instead of chairs. And at B.E.D. in Miami, Florida, there are only beds. On each bed there is a candle and a tray.

D Work for your food

People go to restaurants to eat, chat with their friends and relax. But some restaurants ask their customers to work for their food. Zauo is a popular restaurant in Tokyo, Japan. It is a fish restaurant, but the customers do not order their fish from the menu – they have to catch it. Inside the restaurant, all of the tables are on an artificial boat, with water all around. There are different fish in different parts of the water. They choose their fish and then try to catch it!

In a restaurant

I can order food and drink in a restaurant.

LOOK OUT!

Drinks are usually uncountable, but they can be countable when we mean 'a cup / glass of ...'.

(uncountable) I don't drink coffee.

(countable) Would you like a coffee? (= a cup of coffee)

We can't do this with food words. We use partitives like 'a bowl of', 'a packet of', etc.

I'd like a bowl of soup.

RACING THE TUBE!

The latest craze in big cities with underground trains is 'racing the tube'. The idea is to run faster than an underground train! First you choose two underground stations that are very near to each other. Then you buy a ticket and get on a train that is travelling to the first station. When the train arrives at the station, and the doors open, you get off the train, go up the stairs or escalator – very quickly! – and run to the next station. You can't take a taxi or catch a bus or ride a bicycle. You have to run. But watch out for traffic and don't lose your way! It's easier if someone helps you. For example, when you have to cross the road, they can warn you if cars are coming. When you arrive at the second station, you have to catch the same train. It's more difficult than it sounds!

UNUSUAL CITIES

THE GOOD, THE BAD and THE UGLY

A Green city

Curitiba is a medium-sized city in the south of Brazil, the largest country in South America. Why is it unusual? Because many South American cities are very polluted. But Curitiba is the opposite: it is one of the cleanest and 'greenest' cities in the world. In most cities, cars cause a lot of pollution. But in Curitiba, only a quarter of the 1.7 million inhabitants use a car – the others use public transport. That is because the bus system is probably the best in the world. It is called the BRT (Bus Rapid Transport) and it carries two million passengers a day. Tickets are cheap and journeys are fast. And nobody in the city lives further than 400 metres from a bus stop. There are lots of parks in the city: in fact, there are 50 square metres of green space per person!

B Artificial city

Neft Dashlari is a man-made city in the Caspian Sea. It is about 65 kilometres from the east coast of Azerbaijan, in Asia, and it has a population of about 2,000. The most unusual thing about the city is its location – it is in the sea, but not on an island. The ground below the city is completely artificial. Neft Dashlari is about 70 years old and it exists for one reason: oil. The city is in very bad condition. For example, it has 300 kilometres of roads, but only 45 kilometres are safe to use. The bridges are falling into the sea and some of the apartments are under water. But people still live and work there. It is probably one of the worst cities in the world for its inhabitants, but salaries are much higher than in other places.

C Recycling city

Cairo, in the north of Egypt, is one of the biggest cities in Africa. It is the capital and has a population of nearly eight million. Like any city, it creates tonnes of rubbish every day. But amazingly, the city does not employ anybody to collect rubbish. Instead, a group of people called the Zabbaleen collect it. The inhabitants of Cairo pay them a small amount of money for doing this. The Zabbaleen take the rubbish back to their town on the edge of Cairo. It is called Manshiyat Naser and has a population of about 60,000. There, the women and children sort the rubbish by hand. It seems a very slow system, but in fact it works very well. They recycle nearly 90% of the rubbish, which is far better than recycling centres in most western countries. Manshiyat Naser certainly is not one of the most attractive places in Egypt. But thanks to a 2009 film about it, Garbage Dreams, it is quite famous – and quite popular with tourists!

SEARCHING FOR THE LOST CITY

The successful Canadian entertainer William Hunt lived and worked in Europe under the name The Great Farini. But he wanted a new challenge and loved the idea of exploration. So in 1885, he sailed to Africa and crossed the huge Kalahari Desert on foot. A photographer travelled with him and photographed the journey. After the journey, they described a lost city in the middle of the desert. Their story caused a lot of excitement and many other explorers studied the photographs and then tried to find the city, but without success. In the end, people stopped looking. Perhaps Farini invented the lost city – nobody knows for sure.

- 1 3.05 Read and listen to the text about exploring the Kalahari Desert. What three different jobs does it mention?

carry → carried
- d If the verb ends in a vowel and a consonant, we usually double the consonant before adding -ed:
chat → chatted

Listening Strategy

In connected speech, some sounds disappear when we join words together. This is especially true of /d/ and /t/ sounds at the end of a word, when the next word begins with a consonant. The more you listen, the more you will get used to this.

- 3 Read the Listening Strategy. Mark one /d/ or /t/ sound in each sentence which might disappear when the sentence is spoken at natural speed.

- 1 Kate is my best friend.
- 2 My grandad is an old man.

However, we can usually identify past tense forms from the context or from other words in the sentence.

- 5 3.08 Read the Look out! box. Then listen to the two example sentences. How do we know that the verbs are past simple, not present simple?
- 6 3.09 Listen to eight sentences. Say if the verb is present simple, past simple or could be either. How do you know?

SURVIVAL IN THE RAINFOREST

Gileno Vieira da Rocha is a Brazilian engineer. He helps to build roads in the Amazon rainforest. Last year he was in the forest, 300 miles from the nearest big town. When he finished work one day, he decided to walk back to the camp, ten kilometres away. His workmates walked along the usual path. But Gileno decided to take a shortcut. He walked across a field, and into the jungle. But he got lost. He couldn't see any other people and he couldn't return to his workmates. He continued to walk through the trees. He climbed over tree trunks and crawled under bushes. At night he rested in a tree or on the ground. After a few days he was very hungry, but he couldn't find any fruit or animals to eat. So he decided to catch bees and flies for food! Finally, after twelve days, he arrived at a river and started to walk along it. There were people by the river and they helped him. Gileno almost died, but he finally arrived home safely. He was a very lucky man!

Stranger than fiction?

I can understand a text about real animals which people thought were myths.

- 1 SPEAKING In pairs, read the paragraph. Then answer the questions below.

Hundreds of years ago, travellers shared stories about strange animals from other parts of the world. But in most people's opinion, these stories were just myths: the animals were not real. - 1 What is a 'myth'?
 - 2 What were people wrong about?
- 2 Look at the headings (1–4) in the text and match them with the photos (A–D).

Reading Strategy

When you do a multiple-choice task, treat each option as a true or false task. Remember that only one option – the correct answer – is true.

REAL ANIMALS

THAT WERE ONCE A MYTH

1 Giant squid

In Ancient Greek times, there were stories about huge sea monsters with very long arms. Similar stories appeared in the Middle Ages. These monsters lived in very deep water, but sometimes they attacked sailors. However, were these creatures real or were they a myth? For hundreds of years, scientists were not sure. But that changed in 1873. A giant squid attacked a small boat near the east coast of North America. The fishermen in the boat used an axe to cut off two of the giant squid's arms. They were six metres long! They showed the arms to the scientists at a local museum. The scientists were amazed! Today, everyone knows that giant squid are real, but people very rarely see them. In fact, only one video exists of a giant squid in its natural habitat.

2 Gorillas

About 2,500 years ago, an Ancient Greek explorer called Hanno travelled to Africa. On one island near the coast, there was a group of strange people with black hair on their faces and bodies. He asked the local people for information about them: they were 'gorillae', they answered. These 'people' were violent, bad-tempered and very strong. And for hundreds of years, there were similar stories about strange creatures – half human and half animal – in the forests of Africa. The first scientific description of gorillas only appeared in the 19th century. And mountain gorillas were a complete mystery until a German soldier discovered them in 1902!

3 Okapi

The Ancient Egyptians were familiar with the okapi, a strange creature from the forests of Africa. It looked like a mix between a zebra and a horse. In the 19th century, the famous British journalist and explorer Henry Stanley described the same animal. But was it all a myth? An English politician in central Africa, Henry Johnston, was very interested in Stanley's description. He decided to find the animal. It was not easy, but in 1901 Johnston finally managed to get a complete okapi skin. He sent it to London and the scientists there were amazed. Later, they realised that the okapi is not a type of zebra – in fact, it is a relative of the giraffe.

4 Komodo dragons

During the First World War (1914–18) a pilot crashed into the sea near Indonesia. Luckily, he could swim well. He reached one of the smaller islands. He was safe! Or was he? On the island, he discovered a horrible monster. It looked like a dragon: it was very big with short legs and a long tongue. It attacked and killed large animals for food. The pilot survived and later he described the monster to his friends. They laughed at him! But in fact, the animal was real: it was a Komodo dragon, the largest lizard in the world. In 1927, London Zoo opened its new Reptile House and it included the first pair of Komodo dragons in Europe.

Hi Sam,

POST CARD

I'm having a great time in Vietnam. We arrived three days ago and now we're staying in a hostel by a river in the jungle. The weather is very hot and sunny.

Yesterday we trekked into the jungle and explored. We also looked for monkeys in the trees, but we couldn't see any. There were lots of horrible spiders! Yuck!

Tomorrow morning we're travelling to the beach and in the afternoon we're surfing. I can't wait!

Say hello to Emma. See you soon.

Love, Milla

Hi Joanna,

This is my second day in Canada. We're staying at a campsite near a lake in Ontario. The scenery is really beautiful. The weather is OK. Yesterday it was really cold and windy, but today it's better.

Yesterday we kayaked down a river. It was very scary as there were lots of rocks. Today I abseiled down a cliff. That was scary too, but I enjoyed it!

Tomorrow we're cycling to the nearest village to buy food and drink. I've only got three more days here. 😞

Wish you were here!

Bye for now!

Tom

Reading

Strategy

Multiple-choice questions often focus on the gist of each text (the general meaning) or on the writer's intention (why the author wanted to write the text, e.g. to tell a story). Read each text quickly to see what the writer's intention is.

1 Read the Strategy. Match sentences A–E with intentions 1–5 below.

- 1 give a reason _____
 - 2 give information about the past _____
 - 3 describe something _____
 - 4 compare things _____
 - 5 give directions _____
- A Silver Street is more attractive than East Street.
 B It has big wings and a long tail.
 C I like living in the house because it's near the gym.
 D Come out of the station, cross the square and walk 100 m along Mill Lane.
 E 300 years ago, people lived in small houses near the lake.

2 Read the texts and answer the questions (1–3). Choose the correct answer, (A–D).

The heart of Seoul

Seoul is the capital city of Korea. It's 600 years old and it's a large, busy, noisy city. But a small river runs for 5.8 km through the middle of the city. It's called the Cheonggyecheon Stream. The river is older than the city, but for many years the people of Seoul couldn't see it at all because there was a big road over it. Then, in 2003, the government closed the road. They took the road away completely and opened the river again. Now the river is a beautiful place to go for a walk and relax.

- 1 The text gives readers
- A a list of good places to visit in Seoul.
 - B a funny story about a river.
 - C reasons why the city needed a big road in 1958.
 - D information about the history of a river.

Forest fright

Last year, my family and I visited the Piedras Blancas National Park in the south-west of Costa Rica. We stayed in a small wooden house on a beach near the Pacific Ocean. On the first day, we walked into the rainforest with a guide. It was warm, dark and rainy. Suddenly, a big brown snake appeared on the path in front of us! It was a Hog-Nosed Pit Viper, the most dangerous snake in Costa Rica. We stopped, and luckily the snake moved away. Amazing!

- 2 What does the boy say about his visit to Costa Rica?
- A He wanted to see a snake.
 - B He was interested in the trees in the forest.
 - C An exciting thing happened on the first day.
 - D He walked over Costa Rica's most dangerous snake.

A Green City Walk

When we were in Paris last month, we walked along the Promenade Plantée. Do you know it? It's a park now, but a hundred years ago it was a train line. The line closed, and then in 1988 two men planned a public garden for the space. They planted trees and flowers and created a beautiful long path through the 12th District. Away from the crowds and the traffic, it was hard to believe we were in the middle of the city.

- 3 The author of the text
- A invites you to go to a park with her.
 - B tells you about the history of a park that she visited.
 - C explains why two men wanted to make a park.
 - D gives facts about the birds and insects in a park.

Listening

3 Read the Strategy. Add the words below to the correct place in the table.

clean long loud polluted quick quiet safe slow start wait

	similar meaning	opposite meaning dirty

- 4 Myra thinks the air in their city is polluted. ___
- 5 Stephen thinks bikes are bad for the city. ___
- 6 Stephen thinks trams are noisier than buses. ___

Use of English

Strategy

Before you start a multiple-choice task, read the word before and after each gap. Think about common combinations of words that you know: preposition + noun (e.g. in Paris), verb + noun (e.g. catch a bus). You should also use your knowledge of grammar to help you. For example, if you see a superlative adjective, the word before it must always be the (e.g. the best).

5 Read the Strategy. One word in each phrase (1–6) below is wrong. Underline it.

- 1 in ... Spain, New York, a motorbike
- 2 get off ... a bike, a car, a tram
- 3 get out of ... a bus, a taxi, a car
- 4 miss ... your way, the bus, the train
- 5 on ... the ground, Istanbul, a bus
- 6 at ... the museum, the airport, Germany

6 Read the text and choose the correct answer A, B or C to fill the gaps.

Make your dreams a reality

Imagine that your dream is to fly aeroplanes but you can't afford to go to school or university. What can you do? In today's digital world, the answer is simple: use the internet.

As a boy, George Mel from South Sudan had a dream: to be a pilot. He made flying machines in his garden and tried to fly. Once, he fell off the roof and nearly broke his leg!

When George became a teenager, he went to high school for a few years. However, he had to give up because his family had no money. He found a job and worked hard – but he still dreamed about flying.

He read about aeroplanes on the internet. Secretly, he got some old pieces of wood and metal and began to make an aeroplane in his bedroom. In the end, he built his aeroplane. He drew a Sudanese flag on it and took his work to the South Sudan Air Force. When they saw it, they offered him a job!

PEOPLE POWER

In March 2015, a British man went to a gig in London. He liked the music and he began to dance. Because he was a large man, other people noticed his dancing. A few of them laughed and took photos of him. When the man saw their reaction, he stopped dancing and looked sad.

A few days later, the photos appeared on a well-known internet forum. There were comments about the man's dancing and some of the comments were very unkind. The man was a victim of cyberbullying. But that wasn't the end of the story; it was only the beginning.

A group of people on social media, including an American writer called Cassandra Fairbanks, were angry about the cyberbullying. ¹ ____ They decided to have a huge party for him in California. But they didn't know who he was! However, it quickly became a viral story and Twitter users started a hashtag campaign: #FindDancingMan! ² ____ Sean O'Brien was his name. He was originally from Liverpool but lived in London.

Cassandra Fairbanks and her friends on social media began to organise the party for Sean in Los Angeles. They also set up an online fundraising page to pay for Sean's ticket to the USA. ³ ____

They gave the extra money to anti-bullying charities. By this time, the story of 'Dancing Man' was well known. When Sean opened his own Twitter account (@dancingmanfound) he quickly got more than 80,000 followers. Celebrities offered to help with the party and American TV shows wanted to speak to Sean.

The party took place at a nightclub in Hollywood in May 2015. About 1,000 people were there and they danced to music from celebrity DJ Moby. ⁴ ____ But it was just part of an amazing weekend in the USA. Before the party, he appeared on Today, one of the most popular shows on American TV. On the show, he danced with Meghan Trainor. The day after the party, he threw the first ball of an important baseball match. So in the end, a story about cyberbullying became a story about kindness. 'It really shows the power of people,' said Cassandra Fairbanks.

- 2 Read the text. Why did the phone become locked when Emily entered her PIN?

Write a story about a time when your phone (or another electronic device) caused problems for you.

LOCKED OUT!

A few months ago, I went out for the evening with my friend Suzie. We planned to have a pizza at a café in town. My dad kindly took us there in his car. 'I can come and get you,' my dad said, 'but don't call too late.'

We had a very nice meal at the café. Afterwards, I tried to call my dad. I entered my PIN, but the phone didn't accept it: I got an error message. I tried again, but the same thing happened.

'This is strange,' I said. I tried a third time; unfortunately, the phone became locked. I couldn't use it.

'Don't worry, Emily, you can use my phone,' said Suzie.

Amazingly, the same thing happened to her. She tried three times, but the PIN was wrong and her phone became locked too. I thought very hard and then I remembered something: we had the same type of phone.

'You've got my phone and I've got yours,' I said. 'We swapped by accident. That's why the PIN numbers were wrong!'

Luckily, we saw a boy from our class in the café and told him about our problem. He lent me his phone and I called my dad. So we got home safely in the end – but our phones were locked for three days!

8 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Act out your interview for the class.

How long did you train?

El Capitan

For years, two climbers, Tommy Caldwell and Kevin Jorgeson, dreamed of climbing the Dawn Wall.

The Dawn Wall is a one thousand-metre rock face on El Capitan in Yosemite National Park. It is the steepest, most difficult rock face in the world. Tommy and Kevin decided to 'free climb'. That means they use ropes and equipment only to keep them safe and catch them if they fall. They don't use them to climb. They trained hard for six years and then attempted the climb at the end of 2014. People all around the world followed their progress on social media.

2 Read the text. Answer the questions.

Noun suffixes

I can form nouns with a range of suffixes.

Samar Barakat, a seventeen-year-old teenager from London, is going to cycle through Japan to raise money for Child Chemo House, a charity that helps children who are having treatment for cancer. Her journey will start in Tokyo in July and will end at the headquarters of Child Chemo House in Kobe, 550 kilometres away. Samar's parents gave her permission to do the cycle ride, but they aren't going to cycle with her. Samar is a very independent girl and is not worried about travelling alone. She says she's going to meet friends while she's in Japan, so homesickness shouldn't be a problem. She's doing a lot of preparation and organisation before she starts. She's learning Japanese, and she's researching the route online, looking for accommodation. She doesn't want to cycle in darkness, so at the end of each afternoon, she's going to stop and stay in a cheap hotel or hostel. The journey will take about ten days and she hopes that she will receive lots of donations on her fund-raising web page. It will be an amazing achievement if she's successful.

1 THE CYCLIST

In 1976, at the age of fifteen, Christian Haettich had a serious car accident. He lost his left arm and his left leg. For the next few years, he found it very difficult to live with his disability. But in 1984 he saw a man with one leg cycle up a steep hill. 'I can do that,' he thought, and he learned to cycle. It was really difficult – he fell off his bike many times – but he kept trying.

In 1985, he began to compete in races for disabled cyclists. His ambition was to compete in the Paralympic Games in Sydney in 2000 and he trained hard to be in the French team. But then the rules for the competition changed and Christian could not take part because his disability did not match the new rules. So Christian found a new challenge: cycling up mountains. Now he competes in mountain races and cycles around 27,000 kilometres every year!

2 THE RACING DRIVER

British driver Mike Newman enjoys breaking speed records. For example, in 2013 he broke two – the land speed and the water speed records. This achievement is more amazing because Mike cannot see. He was born with a serious eye disease and became completely blind at the age of eight.

For many years, Mike did not think it was possible to take part in motor sports. But at the age of forty, he started riding motorbikes and then he tried cars. 'I love the engines, the smells, the noises which come with it,' he says.

He set new land speed records in 2003 and 2005, but in 2010 Metin Senturk, a blind Turkish pop star, went faster. So in 2013, Mike had to set a new record. It is very difficult – and dangerous. Imagine driving a car at 300 kilometres per hour with your eyes closed!

When he isn't breaking records, Mike runs a charity called Speed of Sight. The charity helps other blind people to take part in motor sports.

3 THE SKIER

Alana Nichols was a very sporty child. She loved volleyball and basketball. As a teenager, Alana's ambition was to study sports at university. But then, at the age of seventeen, she broke her back in a serious snowboarding accident. She couldn't walk. For two years, she did not know what to do with her life.

But at the age of nineteen, she discovered a new sport: wheelchair basketball. She became part of the national team for the USA and in 2008 they won a gold medal at the Paralympics in Beijing.

Alana realised that other sports were possible for her too. She tried surfing and kayaking. Then she tried skiing. She trained hard and became part of the American Paralympic team. At the 2010 winter Paralympics, she became the only athlete to win gold medals at the summer and winter Paralympic Games when she won four medals for skiing: two gold, a silver and a bronze. Then, in 2014, she won another silver medal at the winter games.

4 July 2016

Dear Henry,

Thanks for your letter. Sorry I didn't reply sooner. My exams finished last week, and tomorrow the summer holidays start.

Guess what! I'm going to take part in a triathlon. It's taking place in Hyde Park in London, and I'm already training for it. I run, swim or cycle every day. You need quite a lot of equipment. My parents bought me a really good bike and helmet for my birthday. I've already got a wetsuit, but I'll need to buy goggles and new running shoes before the race. It's quite a big event and I think there'll be a lot of spectators.

Anyway, that's all for now. Write soon.

Love,

Emily

PS The triathlon is at the end of July. It would be great if you could come and cheer me on!

Reading

Strategy

Before you do a true or false reading task, read all the statements carefully and underline key words in them. You will understand them better and underlining the key words will give you an idea of the information you are looking for.

- 1 Read the Strategy. Read the statements in exercise 2 and underline the key words.
- 2 Read the text. Are the sentences true or false? Write T or F.
 - 1 Tricking is a mix of gymnastics and dance. ___
 - 2 There is a long list of rules for tricking. ___
 - 3 Tricking started in sports like judo. ___
 - 4 Trickers post videos of tricks online. ___
 - 5 Trickers only learn tricks from social media. ___
 - 6 The first tricking meeting was in 2010. ___
 - 7 There are trickers all over the world. ___
 - 8 The butterfly twist is easy for beginners. ___

Tricking

A young man jumps, turns his body around in the air and lands on his feet. The movement is beautiful, but the man isn't dancing. Nor is he doing gymnastics, judo or karate. He's tricking.

What exactly is tricking? There's no clear definition. It isn't a sport. It hasn't got any written rules. Trickers are athletes who turn their bodies in new and interesting ways to express themselves.

Tricking started in the USA in the mid-1990s. It developed from the martial arts. Players wanted to challenge themselves to do jumps that were bigger, more powerful and more exciting, so they invented new movements. They called these movements 'tricks'. At that time, the internet was becoming more and more popular. Trickers filmed themselves and shared their new movements on the web, and later on social media.

For a long time, not many people knew about tricking. Trickers used social media to arrange meetings at gyms or outdoor spaces. At these meetings they learned new tricks from each other. Then, people started to do tricking in films and on TV. A character in the 2010 film Tron did a few tricks, for example, and there are trickers in some music videos and TV advertisements. Now tricking is a worldwide sport.

Some sports centres now offer tricking courses, but most people still learn tricking from the internet. They usually begin with easier movements such as the 540 kick before learning moves like the flashkick and the butterfly twist which are much more difficult.

LEARN THIS! Present perfect

a We use the present perfect simple to talk about recent events and give news, especially when the events have an effect on the present.

I can't phone her. She's changed her number.

b We form the present perfect simple with have or has ('ve or 's) and the past participle of the verb. The past participle of regular verbs is the same as the past simple form and ends in -ed.

We've moved house.

My sister has finished school.

c Irregular verbs have irregular past participles. These are sometimes the same as the past simple form and sometimes different.

I've bought a new bike. (buy – bought – bought)

She's broken her phone. (break – broke – broken)

Reading Strategy

To check if a sentence fits a gap, think about any words in the sentence which refer back to people, things, places or situations / events / ideas mentioned in the sentence before the gap. Check that the reference makes sense.

- 3 Read the Reading Strategy. Then look at the sentences in exercise 4. Does each underlined word refer to people, things, places or situations/events/ideas?

- 4 Read the text. Match the gaps in the text (1–5) with the sentences (A–G). There are two extra sentences.

- A They then sell them to the ship and buy the things they need.
 B Visitors usually stay here when they are spending some time on the island.
 C They work together, look after each other and share.
 D When you get there, you will get a very warm welcome.

| 1 tropical | a beaches |
| 2 sandy | b life |
| 3 basic | c neighbour |
| 4 next-door | d time |
| 5 daily | e island |
| 6 free | f supplies |

8 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Try to include vocabulary from exercise 7 in your role-play.

Student A Imagine you live on Palmerston. Talk to Student B about your daily life there.

Student B You live in a big city. Compare your daily life with Student A. Talk about:

- daily routine
- food and drink
- entertainment (sport, hobbies, etc.)

In the morning I get up at nine o'clock and walk along the beach to school.

Really? I catch the bus to school.

It is one of the hardest places in the world to visit. First, you have to fly to Tahiti, an island in the South Pacific Ocean. Then you have to travel by boat – for nine days! During that time, you hardly ever see another boat or plane. And the final part of the journey is the most dangerous, because of the rocks. Over the years, they have caused hundreds of boats to sink. You can still see some of the wrecks on the beaches. But finally, you arrive at the tiny tropical island of Palmerston, part of the Cook Islands. ¹ ____ The islanders love visitors and look after them well.

The island is very beautiful, with white sandy beaches and clear blue water. There are no cars. The main road in Palmerston is only about a hundred metres long and is made of sand, with only about six buildings. There is a small school, but there are no shops. The families on Palmerston don't use money in their daily lives. ² ____ When you run out of rice, you ask your next-door neighbour. They only use money to buy things from other countries.

A ship visits the island twice a year and brings basic supplies, like rice and fuel. The islanders need money to pay for this, so they catch and freeze fish. ³ ____ But sometimes the ship doesn't come. Recently, eighteen months passed without a visit from the ship. But that wasn't a problem: they could eat coconuts and fish.

These days, the islanders access the internet for one or two hours a day and they can even get a mobile phone signal – sometimes. But everyday experiences, like a visit to the dentist, can be a problem because the island is so remote. The nearest dentist is on Rarotonga, the capital of the Cook Islands. ⁴ ____ And when the dentist has finished, you sometimes have to wait six months for a boat home!

Some of the islanders love the remoteness and think their home is paradise, but others have decided to leave. In the past 50 years, the population of Palmerston has dropped from 300 to just 62. About 20 of these are children. Their life is very happy and relaxed, but as they get older, some of them want a university education. ⁵ ____ They often plan to come home again after their studies – but in reality, they rarely return.

But, for the people who stay on the island, daily life is easy. Nobody works very hard and there is a lot of free time. In the evenings, children swim in the beautiful blue ocean or play volleyball on the beach. The adults watch TV (there is one TV on the island) or chat. There is a policeman on Palmerston, but there isn't any crime, so he makes musical instruments instead!

➔ Vocabulary Builder Adjectives to describe rooms: page 121

Speaking Strategy

In a photo comparison task remember to:

- compare the photos, pointing out any obvious similarities and differences.
- describe the people in the photos and say what they are doing.
- give your opinion and / or speculate about the people and situation.

A description

I can write a description of a home.

- 1 Read the task and the model texts. Which text matches the photo? How do you know?

Your family has agreed to offer a room to a foreign student for three months. Write a description of your home and the student's room. Include information about the rooms, the location of the home and the activities you do there in your free time.

A I live in a fairly modern apartment on the fifth floor. It's a great location because it's right in the middle of the city. You can easily find a café nearby or get the bus to another part of the city.

There are three bedrooms. Your bedroom will be the one at the front of the apartment. The room is a bit small although it's very light. There's a bed, a desk and a chair in the room. The apartment also has two bathrooms, a living room and a kitchen.

In the living room, we have a big 3D TV, so we often lie on the sofas and watch films in the evenings. It's really relaxing! We also have a games console for playing video games.

B I live in a small cottage in a village. It's a bit remote – there are only about 50 houses here and there's only one shop! But there are four buses a day into town and the tickets are not very expensive.

The cottage has a living room, a dining room and a kitchen downstairs. It's extremely cosy in the winter because we always light the fire in the living room. Upstairs, there are three bedrooms. Your bedroom will be the one at the back of the house, so you'll have an amazing view of the countryside.

We often play board games in the evenings. Also, there are lots of books on the shelves. We've got a TV, although we don't watch it much.

- 2 Imagine you are choosing a place to stay for three months. Which room in exercise 1 would you choose? Why?
- 3 Match the three paragraphs in each text in exercise 1 with the three elements of the task: a) the rooms b) the location c) free-time activities.

LEARN THIS! although, because and so a We use although to introduce a fact that contrasts in some way with the main information in the sentence.

Although our flat is small, the kitchen is very large.

We live near the sea, although we never go swimming.

b We use because to introduce a reason and so to introduce a result.

The flat is on the top floor, so it's very quiet.

The flat is very quiet because it's on the top floor.

- 4 Read the Learn this! box. Find an example of the three conjunctions (although, because and so) in each text in exercise 1. How do you say these conjunctions in your own language?
- 5 Circle the correct conjunction to complete these sentences.
- We can't live in the city centre although / because it's too expensive.
 - We sometimes go to the beach although / so the sea is too cold for swimming.
 - Our street is in the town centre, because / so there's a lot of traffic.
 - There's a lot of beautiful countryside, although / so it's a great place for walks.
 - In the evenings, we usually stay at home although / because we sometimes visit neighbours.

Writing Strategy

We often use modifiers like very or fairly before adjectives when we are writing a description. Modifiers make the description sound more natural.

The apartment is very / fairly modern.

- 6 VOCABULARY Read the Writing Strategy. Which modifiers can you find in the texts in exercise 1. What adjectives are they with?

Modifiers a bit extremely fairly pretty quite really (not) very

- 7 Plan an answer to the task in exercise 1. Make notes for each element (a–c in exercise 3). Include adjectives and modifiers in your notes.
- 8 Write your description following your plan from exercise 7. Use conjunctions to join ideas together within each paragraph.

CHECK YOUR WORK

Have you ...

- used conjunctions correctly?
- included modifiers in your description?
- checked your spelling and grammar?

Reading

Strategy

Make sure you read the whole of each paragraph before you start to match the headings. The extra heading will contain a word or phrase that matches part of one or two paragraphs, but only the correct heading will match the whole of the paragraph.

- 2 Which paragraphs in the text contain the word big?

- D New houses, old style
- E Colours have made life better
- F Big houses for rich people

Homes in Mexico

Mexico has forests and beaches, high mountains and lowlands. It has very rich people and very poor people. It isn't surprising then that there are so many different kinds of homes in Mexico.

1 _____

There are modern blocks of flats in Mexico's towns and cities, but a lot of Mexican people prefer to live in houses. In the old areas of town you can see traditional houses. Their outside walls are painted bright green, yellow, orange and blue. The houses haven't got gardens, but there's usually a small outside space at the back where you can sit and relax. People can talk to their neighbours easily because the houses are next to each other.

2 _____

Some people in Mexico have built modern adobe houses. They look like houses from ancient Mexican cultures. They are small and simple, with red walls and small windows. Inside they are cool and comfortable, even when the weather's hot.

3 _____

Some rich people in Mexico live in Spanish villas. These houses may be modern or old, but they all have white walls, red roofs, wooden doors and lots of windows. The walls in the kitchens and bathrooms are usually blue. Some Spanish villas have beautiful gardens.

4 _____

Other very rich people live in very big, beautiful houses called haciendas. In the past, rich families owned haciendas and all of the land around them. They used the land for growing coffee and sugar. Lots of people worked there, but only the family who owned the land lived in the big house.

5 _____

Not everyone in Mexico can live in a beautiful house, but in one town where life is difficult for many people, the government has paid a group of street artists to paint more than 200 new houses in bright colours. The houses make a 20,000 m² picture. 'It's fantastic,' says Ana Flores, who lives in the area. 'It's helped young people believe that a better future is possible.'

UNLIKE FRANCE OR ITALY, Britain is not famous for the quality of its food. And the truth is, British people are very keen ¹ _____ food from other countries. There are Indian and Chinese restaurants in nearly every town in ² _____ UK – and other types of international food are popular too. However, according to a recent survey, British people are also keen on traditional British food and usually have one ³ _____ two favourite British dishes.

Sometimes, favourite dishes have a connection with a special time or place, and often the food seems to taste better because ⁵ _____ that connection. For example, a hot pie is the perfect food when you’re watching a football match. But when you’re watching tennis at Wimbledon, you want a bowl ⁶ _____ strawberries and cream.

- ⁷ _____ He published his book, Principia Mathematica.
- ⁸ _____ Newton died

4.26 ISAAC NEWTON was born on Christmas Day in 1642. Newton's father died before he was born. His mother got married again, and Newton lived with his grandmother. At the age of twelve, he started school and seven years later, in 1661, he went to Cambridge University. There he began to study light and colour. He invented a new type of telescope and was the first person to discover that white light is a mixture of all the colours. After four years at Cambridge, the plague arrived in Britain. The plague was a terrible illness that killed thousands of people. The university closed and Newton returned home. While he was at home he continued to think and to work. One day, he was sitting under an apple tree in his garden, and an apple fell on his head. Newton said that is how he discovered gravity. It's certainly a good story, but we aren't sure if it is true! He returned to Cambridge in 1667 and two years later he became a Professor of Mathematics. Starting in 1684, Newton wrote his greatest work: Principia Mathematica, which he published in 1687. Isaac Newton died in October 1727, at the age of 84. His work is still important, nearly 300 years after his death.

Do footballers earn too much?

First of all, footballers' careers are short. They can play for fifteen years, if they're lucky, but the average career lasts for only eight years – and a career can end suddenly at any time with a bad injury. Also, only a few footballers earn really big salaries. Most footballers play in the lower leagues. They earn a good salary while they are playing, but when they stop, they need to find another job – they certainly won't have enough money to last for the rest of their lives. Yes, some footballers earn extraordinary amounts of money. But that is true for other jobs too. The best actors, the best singers and the best lawyers all earn millions. Why shouldn't the best footballers?

PHILIP JAMESON FOOTBALL JOURNALIST

In one month, a top footballer can earn about the same as the Prime Minister earns in one year! Is that right? I don't think so – but I don't blame the players, I blame the clubs. They want success on the pitch, but it is also big business. The best footballers make money for their clubs even when they aren't playing football. Real Madrid paid £80 million for Cristiano Ronaldo. In the next nine months fans paid £100 million for kits with Ronaldo's name on the back. Football is not about sport any more – not at the highest level. It's about money.
